An Internet Tools Solution   2023-present
TOOLS 4 ALL
I have been the lead frontend developer for Tools 4 All (tools-4all.com), an online platform offering a variety of internet tools, such as scraping, What's My IP and Browser, image conversion and compression, and more. My role has focused on client-side development using HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, and JavaScript to create a responsive, accessible, and visually engaging user experience. Working closely with my backend partner, who utilized Python, Django, and WebAssembly, we delivered a seamless and efficient product. This project allowed me to enhance my skills in web design and interactive features.
